

AUTORENVERZEICHNIS

---

Dr. Maggie Beers received her Doctorate Degree from the Department of Language and Literacy Education, Modern Languages at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, Canada, and her Master's of Arts Degree from the Department of Spanish and Portuguese at the University of California, Santa Barbara . Currently, Dr. Beers is based in the Learning Resources Unit at the British Columbia Institute of Technology , Vancouver, Canada, where she concentrates on faculty development and on-line curriculum design with emerging technologies.

Dr. Peter Gözl is Associate Professor of German at the University of Victoria in British Columbia. He has published on CALL and on 20th-century literature (Kafka, Grass, Muschg, Gibson). His main online project is www.germanfortravellers.com . E-mail: pgolz@uvic.ca .

Gjoa Hart is an instructor at the British Columbia Institute of Technology currently teaching business report writing and English for upper intermediate to advanced speakers of English and "native speakers". After finishing her research at the English Language Institute at the University of British Columbia, she is looking for ways to implement collaborative writing activities and on-line tasks into all her classes. E-mail: Gjoa_Hart@bcit.ca.

Dr. Trude Heift is an Assistant Professor in the Linguistics Department at Simon Fraser University. Her research areas are in CALL, computational and applied linguistics. She has developed Web-based Intelligent Language Tutoring Systems for German, Greek and ESL. She is also the director of the Language Learning Centre at SFU. E-Mail: heift@sfu.ca .

Dr. Peter Liddell is Professor of German and Academic Director of the Humanities Computing and Media Centre (formerly Language Centre) at the University of Victoria, BC. He is President-Elect of IALLT, and a member of the Steering Committee and chair of the Program Committee for WorldCALL II, to be held in Banff, Alberta, in May 2003. E-mail: pgl@uvic.ca

Dr. Kenneth Reeder is Professor in the Department of Language & Literacy Education at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, Canada. His research interests include the development of linguistic pragmatic abilities in first language learners, biliteracy in bilingual education, and appropriate uses of technology to promote first and second language development. He has two children in French Immersion education, and has recently returned from a year at the Université de Nice-Sophia Antipolis, where he served as chercheur invitée in the Linguistic Engineering & Applied Linguistics lab. E-Mail: kenneth.reeder@ubc.ca.

Dr. Jörg Matthias Roche ist Professor für Deutsch als Fremdsprache an der Universität München und leitet dort das Multimedia Forschungs- und Entwicklungslabor. Mit verschiedenen Entwicklerteams arbeitet er zur Zeit an einer Reihe von elektronischen Lehr- und Lernprogrammen (Fach- und Allgemeinsprachen) im Bereich Deutsch und anderen Fremdsprachen. E-Mail: roche@daf.uni-muenchen.de .

Dr. Stephan Schlickau ist wissenschaftlicher Assistent am Institut für Deutsch als

Fremdsprache der Universität München. Im Rahmen seines Habilitationsprojektes beschäftigt er sich mit dem Einsatz Neuer Medien in der Sprach- und Kulturvermittlung. Genauere Informationen zu Projekten und Tätigkeitsschwerpunkten finden sich unter <http://www.daf.uni-muenchen.de/DAF/PERSONEN/SCHLICKA.HTM> bzw. <http://werkstadt.daf.uni-muenchen.de> . E-Mail: schlickau@daf.uni-muenchen.de .

Shabaz Tabyanian is an MA student in the Department of Language & Literacy Education at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, Canada. His MA thesis addresses educators' understanding of the new literacies. He has taught ESP in Iran and ESL in Canada; his particular interests are multimedia literacy, Systemic Functional Linguistics, and critical discourse analysis. E-Mail: shahbtav@interchange.ubc.ca .

---

Zurück zur [Leitseite der Nummer im Archiv]